Proposal Performa for short term course on

ADVANCES IN DISASTER MANAGEMENT

Course description: Faculty of nursing is now accepting applications for short term course on Advances in disaster management for session 2021.

Course overview:

Disasters are serious disruptions to the functioning of a community that exceed its capacity to cope using its own resources. Disasters can be caused by natural, man-made and technological hazards, as well as various factors that influence the exposure and vulnerability of a community.

Loss of life and property due to these disasters have been steadily increasing throughout the world due to inadequate technology to combat disasters, rise in frequency from climate change and continuing socio-economic deprivation. The global efforts to manage disasters have proven to be insufficient to match the impact and magnitude of natural disasters.

In India there are ample examples of disasters:

- In case of Bhopal gas tragedy it killed 25000 people and injured 150000.
- In Gujarat, 2001 earthquake killed 10000 people and left hostal population homeless more than 500000.
- Tsunami in 2004, killed 100000 people and many were left homeless.

Everyone requires basic knowledge regarding disaster management. Recognizing what actions need to be taken to manage disaster effect will make the difference between life and death. More students/workers with knowledge of disaster management will be able to cure the effect of disaster everywhere.

The objective of this program is an endeavour to prepare systems for implementation of disaster management.
